

SENATE BEGINS TAX BILL STUDYMellon Approves Measure Before Committee*Indication of Republican Support Given*Democratic Conference to Draft Changes

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Secretary Mellon expressed his approval of the House tax-reduction bill, in general, to the Senate Finance Committee today, and it started actual work on the measure, passing over important controversial provisions, however, for future decision.

Republican members indicated a willingness to follow the administration's support of the House bill, but action on the vital income tax rate provisions was postponed at the request of some Democratic members.

Senator Simmons, North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the committee, later called the Democratic members into conference, and it was decided that they would present a program calling for several changes in the bill. No details of their plan were disclosed, but the program is expected to call for greater reduction than proposed in the bill as passed by the House.

EARNED-INCOME SECTION

The committee did approve the "earned-income" section of the bill, which increases from $10,000 to $2,000 the maximum amount over which no deduction is taken under this classification might be applied. Some consideration also was given to a proposal to increase from $500 to $10,000 the amount of the deduction which is regarded as "earned" and entitled to the reduction.

Despite the opposing party fight on the bill, leaders of both sides declared their intention to work for early action so that the proposed reductions in income rates may be taken advantage of in the payment of direct assessments of these taxes March 15. A suggestion that night meetings of the committee be held, however, brought objection.

INHERITANCE TAX DEBATED

The controversial inheritance tax rates were the subject of discussion between Senator Mellon before the committee and Senator Fletcher, Democrat, Florida, in a speech before the Senate.

Recalling that he had urged retention of the federal government from this field of taxation, Secretary Mellon told the committee he had no serious objection to the reduction of inheritance taxes proposed in the bill. The measure cuts the maximum inheritance rate from 40 to 20 per cent, and increases from 20 to 10 per cent the rate to all but the first amount of state inheritance taxes.

Senator Fletcher denounced particularly the State tax credit allowance, maintaining it amounted to "coercion of the States into raising and enacting inheritance-tax rates." He favored complete repeal of the Federal levy.

BORAH OPENS FIRE ON TARIFF PROVISION

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The Tariff Act was fired on from a new source today when Senator Borah, Republican, questioned the constitutionality of the flexible provision of the law.

Discussing the reason of Chairman Smoot of the Finance Committee for his opposition to the tariff Commission, Senator Borah suggested that the inquiry embrace the question of constitutionality.

Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, promised the Senate some facts "which will shock the conscience of the American people," in regard to the tariff administration.

NATIONAL FARM FINANCE UNDERTAKING PROPOSED

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Representative King, Republican, Illinois, introduced today a bill intended to aid agriculture by organizing the National Farmers' Finance Union to be capitalized by the government at $200,000,000 and authorized to extend credit to farmers, their associations and their banks.

BILL WOULD CURTAIL RAIL BOARD'S POWERS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission over administration of new lines of railroad and extensions of present systems would be removed under a measure introduced today by Senator Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico. The bill is the outgrowth of the recent refusal of the commission to permit construction by the New Mexico Central Railroad of 115 miles of new lines from Santa Fe, N. M., to the San Juan basin territory.

IMMIGRATION QUOTA MEASURE INTRODUCED

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A bill was introduced in the House today by Representative Bond, Democrat, Texas, to amend the Immigration Act so as to make its quota provisions applicable to Mexico, Cuba, Canada, Haiti, the Dominican Republic and the Canal Zone.

Abdication Clouded in Political Fog

CAROL MAY URGE FASCISM

Prince's Study and Advocacy of Italian Plan Likely; Romance Story Regarded as Camouflage

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PARIS, Jan. 5.—The romantic story of youthful love which has caused the renunciation by Crown Prince Carol of his throne now appears as pretty camouflage by which those who rule Rumania seek to hide the truth that Prince Carol quit for political reasons, following strenuous opposition to what he regarded as the improper way in which the country was governed.

For he has just received from Bucharest a letter from his wife, Queen Marie of Rumania, which would have been written by the breaking of the hold of those who now control the country, and it is entirely likely that in Italy he will study the Fascist movement, which he greatly admires, and to see if such a regime could be possible in his own country.

The story of the political fight which led to Carol's renunciation is largely the story of a battle of wills between the mother and her son, Queen Marie, together with her favorite, Baroness Barbu Stirbey, and his brother-in-law, Premier Bratianu, in the running of the kingdom. In the running for a trio which are the running forms in Rumania, it is King Ferdinand has had little to say, and that little has counted for nothing. Partaking largely of the views of Prince Carol, King Ferdinand has consistently led in royal family differences over national policy. It was in an effort to check the regime that Prince Carol gave to his father a letter threatening to use his influence to be used as a threat against the wide sway of Bratianu, backed to the limit by Queen Marie and Barbu Stirbey. However, they called his bluff and accepted the Crown Prince's abdication.

STRONG POLITICIAN
Story fed out to the world from Bucharest pictures Carol as trading his chances to his country's throne because he loved Mme. Zita Lambriano, former morganatic mate now the wife of King Ferdinand. Carol is not a foolish lover, but a strong young politician who, perhaps, is more astute than Queen Marie thinks her son to be. Of course, it would be only natural for the son of such a mother to be romantic, but he has more than that in him.

A recent interview given in Bucharest by Prince Carol, not long before he left, showed he had for a long time been planning to do something "to bring a new era to Rumania." In this interview he criticised the way in which the king had been operating, and expressed his admiration for what in which Mussolini had brought order out of chaos in the Italian peninsula.

LEFT OUTSIDE
In the Rumanian capital it has been known for some time that Carol was in closest touch with opposition leaders, and during the last year's absence of the King and Queen on a tour across Europe, the Crown Prince was left outside of the council of the regency which controlled affairs in the absence of their master and the because of his opposition to the Bratianu government.

The idea of the Crown Prince was to bring the youth of Rumania should get into the saddle again and install a popular regime, the backbone of which would be the institution of general public instruction in Rumania. He indicated at several points that his eyes had been fastened on Italy and Mussolini.

GOVERNOR PLEASED AT ACTION BY SMITH
Gov. Richardson, at his office here yesterday expressed himself as being well pleased that Gov. Smith approved his requisition for the extradition of "Big Hutch."

"I feel confident at all times that Gov. Smith would honor the requisition papers," the Governor said. "We have a perfect case and all the necessary points were covered in the paper he sent East."

The Governor announced that his secretary, Harry Lutgens, will remain in New York until the matter is settled.

RECLAMATION AID QUESTIONEDWisdom of Blanket Relief Measures Doubtful*Mead Advocates Scrutiny of Petitions for Help*Says Evaders Use Influence to Oppose Payments

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—The wisdom of blanket relief measure for reclamation projects, without investigation of each case, was questioned in testimony of Elwood Mead, Commissioner of Reclamation, before the House subcommittee considering the Interior Department appropriation bill. The testimony was made public today. The Senate had passed four relief measures, all providing for postponements in payments due to the government from water users. Dr. Mead said:

DEBT-EVADERS HIT

"While the intent of these relief measures is to considerately assist those unable to meet their obligations, it would have been far more valuable if they required a careful scrutiny into individual necessities and limited relief to those unable to meet their obligations. This would have preserved the government's generosity from being abused, as it has been where relief was granted to all delinquents regardless of causes of default or merit."

Because of the blanket feature and an absence of necessary scrutiny, we find on some projects water users have made heroic sacrifices to pay their water debts to the government in full, while others have been chronic evaders, not only refusing to pay charges they were amply able to meet, but using their influence to induce other settlers to oppose these payments."

Included in the reclamation or irrigation projects provided for would be $15,000 for the Nevada irrigation project of the four relief bills.

No appropriation was included for the Nevada Spanish Springs project, for which water rights had been waged in the Senate in the last Congress, and which led to threats of holding up adjournment during the last minutes of the session.

Funds allotted for Nevada irrigation and drainage purposes to be administered through the Bureau of Indian Affairs included $500,000 for the Yuma auxiliary project.

Dr. Mead pointed out that the budget of the Reclamation Service contained estimates for irrigation in Arizona, much of which is in the hands of Indians, and $100,000 for the Colorado River project.

Dr. Mead said it was the view of the Reclamation Bureau that, wherever a project was sufficiently developed to give reasonable assurance of success, it can maintain works in good condition and collect charges due to the government, it would be better for the local authorities to assume control.

JAPAN OUTLINES TAX REVOLUTIONRadical Revision Downward to Favor Masses*Higher Levy on Rich Estates and Capital Included*Government Reckons With 10,000,000 New Votes*BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

TOKIO, Jan. 5.—Possibly with an eye on 10,000,000 recently enfranchised voters who will turn out to vote in the franchise 3,000,000 in the next general election, the present government will revise radically the taxation system, or at least some of its members, at government measures at the present session of the Diet that will greatly lessen the taxation upon the masses, and correspondingly increase it upon the wealthy classes.

Finance Minister Hamaguchi has been outlining the government's taxation program in a number of public meetings which he has been declaring the necessity of economy in government and government taxes upon the people in general.

We propose doing away with stamp taxes upon drugs and patent medicines, the tax heretofore collected on railroads, steamships and street-car tickets, the tax upon inheritance, and the like. Thus every Japanese, the income tax on small incomes and a lowering of the tax rate upon small land holdings, with a revision of the land assessments that will provide a long-needed equity between the small property owner and the owners of the large feudal estates. Through these eliminations and reductions we estimate a large shrinkage of some $40,000,000 in federal revenue.

CHURCH FIGHTING STYLESCatholic Clergy of Mexico to Keep Up War Against Present Modes of Feminine Dress*BY JACK STARR-HUNT
BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 5.—The Catholic Church here will not relinquish for one moment the campaign it has been supporting against the present mode of women's dress and this year will see it pushed with added vigor. This, it is announced, will be kept up until the women of Mexico return to the former decorous method of wearing clothes and appear in churches and in the streets with "full dignity."

Throughout the country war will go on of convincing owners of these establishments that it is sinful to be waged by the priests against what ecclesiastical dress has considered indecent fashion. It is announced by Monsignor Ruiz y Flores, chairman of the Union of Catholic Women here, that not only individual proprietors will be carried out in houses throughout the country in favor of moral women's dress, but the various Laborers of Christ will be established as bar-ches of the union and operating in leading cities in the country will inspect all schools with a view of preventing the spread of what the Vatican's approval will be prevented by the church and will be closely scrutinized as to whether their dress is not classed as "scandalous."

The church, it is still further, committees will patrol the streets and when women are observed dressed too modishly, members of the committee will approach them with a copy of the church's statement of the impropriety of their clothes. The program includes a personal call on all fashion houses in Mexico City and other large cities in the country. The church has in this respect will be put into force with a

PRIEST ATTACK BREEDS HORRORAct of French Fanatic Cult Savors of Dark Ages*Woman Head of Order Called to Official Inquiry*Victim Scourged and Left in Serious Condition*BY CARLES AND ASSOCIATED PRESS

BOMBON (Department of Seine-et-Marne, France) Jan. 5.—Marie Meissin, a janitress of Bordeaux, who in 1904 founded the fanatical "Order of Our Lady of Tears," has been summoned judicially to appear before the local authorities who are investigating a mysterious attack by a priest.

The attack on Father des Noyers, who was scourged with cords by members of the fanatical order, started on the 2nd of January.

Bombon, a village near Melun, was the seat of Marshal Foch's headquarters at one time during the war. To the town, according to legend, "from the body of Father des Noyers, the spirit of evil which possessed it," came a dozen persons from Bordeaux, some of them women. They have given the priest's identity, striped and gagged him and proceeded to scourge him. The priest was left in such a serious condition that doctors say he will be unable to resume his ministry for at least a month.

WOMEN RELEASED

The prosecutor's first impulse on hearing the story told by the members of the "Order of Our Lady of Tears" was to pack all concerned off to a madhouse but he ended by releasing ten women, including those in custody, Albert Frogier, a book.

It is asserted that Father des Noyers himself was a wealthy farmer who had become a street sweeper to mortify his pride.

It is asserted that Father des Noyers himself was a member of the sect, and that many sick persons came to him to have evil spirits exorcised in accordance with medieval procedure.

It is believed that Marie Meissin will be charged with being the instigator of the attack. She was a widow who followed her son and referred to her as "our saint." Today she declared that Father des Noyers was casting a spell over her.

Father des Noyers said that he met the mysterious Meissin woman during a pilgrimage. He related that she had instigated an attack similar to the one which he suffered when he was a novice in an austere archimandrite named Sabougu several years ago for the same reason. He was called upon by the authorities of the diocese to attend her case.

SPELTERS CHARGED

"I did not find her possessed of a demon, but rather sick," Father des Noyers said, "so instead of using exorcism I treated her with cups of grappa. She seemed satisfied with the visit and thanked me, but thereafter she pretended that instead of relieving her, I cast spells upon her."

The priest stated that the Meissin woman had denounced him and declared she would take justice into her own hands and that when twelve strangers entered the church prior to the attack, the housekeeper had a premonition and told him "they are people of Bordeaux."

The prosecutor has been struck by the fact that the least pugilistic did not instances although they knew he was closest with strangers who already had threatened him. He also was surprised to find that the aggressor all belonged to the upper middle class. The ten women who were released on their own recognizance were either of independent means or young students. All were convinced of the "health of our saint depended" on the carrying out of their mission.

"She is in his grip," they asserted. "He is not a priest; he is a demon."

Judge Landis to Arrive in Los Angeles Today for Minor League Meet

MOGULS GREET DIAMOND CHIEF

Squad of Local Officials to Welcome Commissioner

Bill Veeck, Cub President, Here With Leader

Prexy Harry Williams Also on Receiving End

The elite of Los Angeles baseball, that means all of the officials and not the players who are never considered in the elite class except when the bases are full and a safe swat is needed to win the game, will gather at the Santa Fe station this afternoon to welcome the one and only Judge Keneaw Mountain, Commissioner of the well-to-do national pastime. The Judge is coming out to Southern California to attend the National Minor Leagues' convention, which will be held at Catalina Island next week, and will be the object of a lot of curious eyes for it is his first trip to these parts since becoming connected with baseball.

Accompanying Landis won't be none other than Mr. William Veeck, president of those Chicago Cubs who annually make a pilgrimage to Southern California to do their spring training.

Included among those who will welcome the pair to these festive climes will be Harry A. Williams, president of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A.; Eddie Parick, Oscar Reichow and "Boots" Weber of the Angel Club; representatives of the local American Legion and the American Legion, not to mention the usual gathering of photographers, baseball experts and innocent on-lookers.

Landis and Veeck will make their headquarters at the Biltmore Hotel until they leave for Catalina to attend the minor leaguers' convention.

GOLF PROS IN RULE PROTEST

(Continued from First Page) playing the entire seventy-two-hole competition over the north course at Beverly, did not shake the local golf moguls, who stated that golf week, including the amateur-pro event would unfold as advertised.

OFFICIAL PROTEST

Bill McElroy, Al Weidens, Andy Kay and others, who requested that the ruling be altered and that the eighteen holes over the south course be used merely as a qualifying test, later drew up a letter of protest addressed to the directors of the tournament.

The letter with signatures of many of the players concerned, is as follows:

Jan. 5, 1926.
To the Directors, Los Angeles Open Golf Championship:

We, the undersigned entrants in the Los Angeles open golf championship, wish to register a protest over the decided change in conditions regarding the championship, as made known to us by Mr. Tufts, today, for the first time. We wish to offer a counter-proposition, that seems fair, and one that will work no hardships on any of the entrants.

We suggest the elimination of the amateur-pro event on Thursday.

We suggest that one-half of the field play eighteen holes on the north course. Thirty-five, and one-half, the odd pro eighteen holes on the south course. We suggest that the halves of the field exchange courses on Friday, and play eighteen holes on the south course.

We suggest that the quality-scoring be dropped, and the qualifiers play thirty-six holes on the north course Saturday, and thirty-six holes on the south course. This arrangement will not be awkward for those of us who have practiced on the north course for the past several days and who have not even seen the south course.

(Signed)

SPELL SORRY

Emmett Speir, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring the event, was greatly disappointed to learn last night of the attitude of both the tournament committee in ordering the change and also of the protest which he and his committee filed by the visiting professionals.

"We invited the international golf boys here as our guests. For their amusement, we have tried to provide a tournament that would compare favorably with any in the country. It is to be regretted that a change, especially at this late time, is necessary. I can readily see why, however, it would be impossible to play the event over one course, but I can readily sympathize with the attitude of the boys. I have never been in favor of the amateur-pro event, and I think by eliminating it we would greatly increase the class of our tournament without working any hardship on our own amateurs."

On the other hand, it has long been the memory of the many boys who have worked so hard for its success. Next year we expect to have a much larger purse to offer the boys—and we want them to feel at home here, and know

THIS IS THE LIMIT!

At least that's what Frank Mason Bockway, publicity director of the B. H. Dyas Company says in his description of Leo J. McMurray, the gentleman holding the feathered game. Bockway didn't mention the name of either or that "McMurray" came by them legitimately. Anyway, here's the picture if you recognize the birds as your property just report the matter to the Chief of Police and The Times will gladly lend you the photo for evidence.

RABBIT PUNCHES

by PAUL LOWRY

Adding local color to the Sully Montgomery-Godfrey heavyweight scramble at the Olympic Auditorium, here comes of the former about fifty strong have engaged seats and will sit in a body and cheer the ex-comic on in his efforts to unmask the man, Godfrey.

When an undergraduate at Coentre College, Montgomery became affiliated with the Beta Theta Pi fraternity and it is the local boys who will have a special rooting section.

This was disclosed yesterday by our old coach at Occidental, Edward Stevens, Merritt, a Bear who has followed his boy to the big stage at Beloit. The boys had Sully as a guest at the University Club one day last week and were anxious to know his battle Wright. They regard Sully very highly and commend his ideas on fighting. Montgomery believes he can put on a good show, far quicker than he can any other way and their retire and pursue some other profession.

The phone call from our old coach reporting this matter was the first intimation we had that he was even remotely interested in fights. A giant of a man, Ed Merrill, a prominent citizen of this city, was one of the best coaches Occidental or any other college ever had. A great athlete in all branches of sport, Merrill performed his share of the work twenty years ago when he turned out in the same season championship teams in football, track and baseball at the institution which was then located at Highland Park. This was the second of 1904-05. He died in 1906 to practice medicine.

His comment on the Alabama-Washington game was that it was the best he ever saw and, as regards Johnny Mack Brown, the sensational catch of Gillis's fifty-yard forward pass, Edward Strong said it reminded him of the thrilling catch of the year, when Brown made in deep left end to save a stirring 1-14-1 fourteenth inning baseball game for Occidental from the marsh of St. Vincent's. Now, Lou Sully, who was born in shape, Kettelle of last season's varsity, will also be in shape again and ready to go.

After watching John Preach, the Nebraska Tiger, make a monkey out of Joe Sigmond, the great comedian at the Olympic Auditorium, we might well believe all the stories we have heard about John's cleverness. John is about the most agile thing on two legs we have seen for quite some time. He vaults over and around his man like a featherweight instead of a heavyweight.

Lou Dore, who used to be a strong himself, says John has him cheated for stunts.

John can pull seven automobiles along the street according to Lou, and is so powerful that he can be down and let a newspaperman drive an automobile loaded with seven people across his chest. And that's how Lou Sully Preach is going to do it before he wrestles Oresto Vedelphi, the Italian Hercules, at the Claremont on Friday, and play a fight.

While the DeGrass is on the way to Hayre, Miss Bills plans to practice at least two hours daily.

She says she always retained her form in and out of season by constant play.

Al, not conscious of what produced the change, nevertheless saw it.

"You—you're a little beaut, honey, that's just what you are. You're not as good as you used to be."

"Oh, Al, if you talk like that I'll run away from you."

"I'll never let you chase me again."

"A change was coming over Minnie."

She felt as if she had just awakened from a long sleep. The past, drab and uneventful, was behind her. Now, the road before her shone brilliant with promise. Strange new dreams and latent ambitions laid hold of her. Her eyes mirroring the surge of her emotions sparkled and grew lustrous.

Al, not conscious of what produced the change, nevertheless saw it.

"You—you're a little beaut, honey, that's just what you are. You're not as good as you used to be."

"Oh, Al, if you talk like that I'll run away from you."

"I'll never let you chase me again."

"A change was coming over Minnie."

She had been dreaming tell upon them.

"How common Billy MacNally looked as he stood there, glowing down at them! His old brown hair was the color of rust, his shoes with their heel-buckles were shabby. He wore a frayed brown tie, and a coarse cotton shirt. His hands dangled awkwardly at his sides while the dented cuffs wriggled over his wrists added a final touch to his grotesque appearance.

Minnie was confused. "Mr. Kessler, she said. "I'd like to have you meet my friend of mine, Bill—Mr. MacNally."

"Glad to meet you, MacNally. Won't you join us a little tea-time?"

"It's a what?"

Minnie blushed with mortification. Billy took Al's hand as if it were a shovelful of hot coals.

"Come on, MacNally," Al urged.

"Minnie, we're going to have a serious little talk here. We need somebody to liven us up a bit. Don't we, honey?" he said turning his back on Billy and smiling broadly at Minnie.

"We're going to be together again," he said, "and we're goin' away together. Now put that in your pipe and smoke it!"

Minnie turned apologetically to Al and his smile was mingled as she forced a titter into her voice.

"Ain't he the scream though, Mr. Kessler? He's always tryin' to kid a fellow, and he don't mean a word of it!"

The "dear" was like a douche of cold water, allaying Billy's fever.

"I guess so," he answered lamely. "I guess I was only kiddin'. Kessler. At that, it's time to be goin'."

Minnie's hand reached in back of her and dropped the small knitted bag that held her powder-puff upon the couch. Once again she knew at once why Minnie had made it. When she bade him a pleasant, though formal good evening, and Billy had descended to shake hands again, he had a faint smile turn away the corners of his mouth. He took out a long, near-amber holder and stuck a cigarette in it. Then he lit it and, finally, after the match had been adjourned.

When Minnie came back for the little pink bag, they arranged a meeting for the following evening.

"I'll be in front of my house on Ninth avenue between Forty-ninth and Forty-ninth streets at 8 o'clock," she whispered to him.

"What's the number of the apartment?" he asked, jotting a memo of the engagement in a small red book.

Ale he came swiftly to her lips.

"My sister's havin' a bunch of friends to the house tomorrow night. She invited me. If you come up there we'll get drugged in the party, and I couldn't get away."

"Then you'd rather see me alone?"

"Yeah, I'd rather see you alone."

"A right honey girl, how will I know the place when I see it?"

"It's the Central. You'll know the house," said Minnie casually, "by the name entrance."

Minnie Flynn had a date on the calendar that hung in the kitchen over the sink. It was October 24, 1914.

On that day, she began her career as a dancer in the United States.

She made $5.00 as an extra girl at a moving picture studio in New Jersey, and signed the voucher slip. Minnie Flynn. All this, even the commonplace name of Flynn, was inspired and arranged by Al Kessler.

On that memorable morning

FIGHTERS FEAR NAMES

Since the boxing commission ruled that all fighters must use their family names at all times, some of the boxers have threatened to leave California and do their boxing elsewhere.

Such is not the case with Doc Snell, whose real name is William McEachern. Snell is going to remain in California just as long as the pickings are good.

The man even got a date to get over and so is the semi-wind-up. No one doubts the ability of Jack Roper and Jimmy Byrne.

Heavyweights can hit like the kilo of whale seeking greater honors.

Sailor Eddie Huffman is coming back to California, and he has two more fights lined up with him. It is not quite probable that the winner of the Byrne-Roper fight will get Huffman when Eddie lands in California.

MINNIE FLYNN

nights she bathed her body, even her legs and feet, in a liberal sprinkling of talcum powder. Minnie also loaned her this accessory, which had been part of her trousseau. The powder, as it caked upon her moist flesh, Mrs. Flynn who was starting out of the room to set the table so Minnie could have her meal served in the same style, as befitting a motion-picture actress, paused at the doorway and watched her daughter. She spoke with some concern: "You're sure you're talkin' in the truth, Minnie, about goin' to get a job in the movies."

"What's satin' you, ma? What do you think I'm goin' to do?"

"All these preparations, Minnie. I thought—maybe—"

Minnie's explosive laughter rang out. Her round face crumpled fast from the pillow and blunked stupidly. But she wasn't grouchy when she spoke to them.

"What's so funny at this hour of the night?" she asked, smothering her yawn.

"Ma's a scream, Net. Just because I'm puttin' on clean undershirts in the middle of the week, ma?"

"There is in the other room, dearie, I was showin' 'em to you pa last night. He thought they was somethin' swell."

"They are," Minnie answered causally, setting the can of talcum back on the washstand and reaching for her shirt. "They taste good, too."

"They ain't that kind of a fellow. He woulda got me to look good and there's no sense in gettin' me all worked up over a plate o' beans."

As she leaned to herself to dry her hair, she broke into the ravages of a wakeful night; puffs under her eyes and a dry pallor of her lips.

"I'll need two cups of coffee to steady myself," she said, turning to her mother.

Mrs. Flynn, almost as feverish as Minnie, tried to convince her that was only the overhead gas-light, which threw an unbecoming shadow upon her face.

"I don't stand there worryin' about it. You'd better begin dreamin' right away. Look, dear, I got every thing ready for you."

"Well, you're not kind of a fellow. He woulda got me to look good and there's no sense in gettin' me all worked up over a plate o' beans."

PACIFIC MUTUAL LIFE INS. CO.
2500 Pacific Avenue, Los Angeles.FARM PROBLEM
AIDED BY DAWESCompiles Expert Opinion as Help to CongressInternational Debate Held on Surplus ExportPurely Economic Aspect of Wheat Problem Given(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—President Coolidge during his recent holiday visit to his Evanston home, prepared for publication the text of the opinions exchanged between Sir Josiah C. Stamp, England's eminent economist, and two Illinois farmers on the subject of the American agricultural problem of the export surplus.

The international debate has extended over a year. It is the contribution of Mr. Dawes, as a banker and business man, to the settlement of the great problem which faces Congress this winter. It is based on the same common-sense method of procedure which led to the settlement of the economic difficulties of Europe.

Sir Josiah Stamp has been called by Lloyd George "the world's greatest practical economist." The American agricultural case is presented by George N. Peck of Missouri, former president of the Council of Agriculture, and Chester C. Davis, grain marketing director of the Illinois Agricultural Association.

BILL INCIDENTAL

The discussion was focused upon an expert corporation plan similar in principle to the bill introduced in Congress on Monday by Representative Dickinson, Republican, Iowa, member of the farm bloc. This, however, was purely incidental, and without the knowledge of any of the debaters, as the discussion, which has been carried on by mail, has steered clear of all partisan politics and has been concerned with economic principles, the effects of certain proposed actions rather than with any particular bill.

The chief value of the debate is the reaction of Sir Josiah to the case presented to him by Mr. Peck and Mr. Davis.

Briefly, his opinion is that the expert corporation plan is possible, that it can put an end to the economic price of wheat for the farmer, but that the cost of living would be enhanced, leading, perhaps, to demands for increased wages. The ultimate benefit to the farmer is the return on the capital and labor of the farmer is fair and reasonable in comparison with that obtained by capital and labor in other economic spheres.

POINTS PROPOSED

Sir Josiah points out the possible international complications in the following:

"Such a movement would set up many new political forces and it is very difficult for an observer on this side even to begin to formulate the possible outcomes. It is possible also, that the scheme might have international reactions. There is always a considerable amount of feeling on the question of dumping of wheat on the market, says Mr. Peck, and Hoover's recent denunciation of restriction schemes for rubber and coffee."

The answer of the American government to the proposal is that the plan to this is that labor and industry can absorb the increase to the farmer without a corresponding increase in wages.

After this initial step in with the figures to show the comparative buying power of laborer and farmer. It is pointed out that the labor wage in this country stands about 20% compared with the prewar 190. The Department of Agriculture figures give the purchasing power of farm products as eighty-seven compared with five prewar years at 100.

PLAN PROPOSED

The proposed plan, which was made the subject of the discussions, is as follows:

(1) To buy for export, or to contract for the purchase and export, of any surplus above domestic needs whenever there is evidence that such excess exists and is bearing down the domestic price to a point that causes, or considerably lessens, the effect of the protective tariff on the domestic product.

(2) If it becomes necessary to sell such surplus abroad at a lower price than the one prevailing at which the purchase was made, such a price, after deducting money which should be repaid from the exportation fund, made up of an equalization fee or excise tax collected upon all the units of the special commodity dealt with as it moved in trade.

Sir Josiah's analysis of the effects of such a plan may be called, on the whole, pessimistic. The main idea, in my opinion, to pure economics as will be seen in detailed study, but has been turned into practical channels.

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 5.—The State Highway Commission will meet in Sacramento on March 1st, to consider road matters affecting Southern California and to take up the awarding of contracts for construction of a 4000-foot causeway across Big Lagoon on the Redwood Highway in Humboldt County. Bids on this project will be opened next Monday.

incomeThe Price of Avocados Raises
As Production Increases!

In 1924 the average price was 40 1/2 cents per pound to the grower for 199,680 pounds sold.

During the first 11 months of 1925 the average price was 47 1/4 cents per pound, the production during that time being 228,628 pounds. (The month of December generally produces about 12,000 pounds.)

This means that with an increased production of 25,948 pounds, the Avocado has brought the grower seven cents more per pound than the previous year. The demand for the locally grown Avocado is tremendous. Our own avocados are now bringing 60¢ per pound. In fact because land suited to the cultivation of Avocados is so limited, there is practically no danger at any time of over production. IT IS THIS CROP THAT PAYSS!!!!!!

TODAY'S GREAT OPPORTUNITY

NOW! Do you know that today it is possible to buy a beautiful suburban homesite, within 45 minutes of 7th and Broadway, located on 4 or 5 acres of wonderful Avocado or citrus land for less than the purchase price of a single lot in Beverly Hills, Hollywood or adjacent territory, and in a few years should rival these districts in price.

The horticultural and agricultural experts of the Edwin G. Hart Organization, have had 12 years' experience and have made a financial success of Avocado cultivation. This staff of experienced experts has tested all this remarkable foot hill land and knows what it will do.

Service Makes It Easy

Again a truly wonderful service is offered. Think! You buy the land, in easy terms and at attractive prices, then it is planted, irrigated, cultivated and maintained for you at an expense that is less than if you should attend to these matters yourself. Your crops can also be harvested under this plan if desired. The element of risk is practically eliminated. The water supply for irrigation and domestic use is abundant, the drainage is perfect.

Wonderful schools from kindergarten to high school are close at hand. One of the world's finest boulevard systems serves this property directly.

Now remember, the price is right—the terms attractive—it's but 40 minutes from 7th and Broadway. You don't have to work the land—it's done for you. Mr. City Man, it is your chance to live in the country with safety and profit.

Bones of Early Inhabitants of Salt River Valley to be Shipped to New York Museum

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

PHOENIX, Jan. 5.—Three skeletons of ancient dwellers of the Salt River Valley have been uncovered in ruins east of Phoenix by Erick Schmidt, representative of the American Museum of Natural History, New York. Each was of a man, about 5 feet 6 inches in height. One of the three was in good condition, the bones having been found for assembly in New York.

Mr. Schmidt has been digging for 14 years at large camps and who thus obtained sustenance from the land. Though no large houses are known to be traced on the cliff dwellings near the State road, beyond Superior, where he found much of ethnological value. He was brought to Phoenix by Dr. O. A. Turner, official city archaeologist, who has assisted in the local excavation. Two kitchen middens or trash heaps, one of which contained fragments of several periods of occupation, were found at a large ruin six miles east of the city, and the other, at the bridge, two miles west of the city.

The ancient residents had two methods for disposition of their dead. Usually the remains were cremated, the bones gathered into an olla, a pottery jar, which was buried in the ground. Some of the remains were found at a depth of about a foot from the surface. Beside each jar usually were placed small vessels filled with food for the spirit journey to an unknown land, while with others there was found a fragment of pure copper.

The ancient Indians had a number of customs which are still observed by the Hopi Indians. They buried their dead in a sarcophagus that thereafter may have served as a settee or bed for the survivors. In one case, at Los Muertos, a man was found buried in a sarcophagus, found buried, side by side.

Many skeletons were found near Tempe, in the excavation of Los Muertos in 1924. Fred Hamilton Cushing, who was present at the time, was present at the time. These were preserved by painting with silicon paint and were sent to the Smithsonian Institution. Mr. Cushing then informed the Indians of the bodies of the bodies of the early priests classes, assumed to have had the power of separation of the spirit without resort to fire. Such burials often were on the sides of the cliff dwellings within the communal houses, the body cemented into a sarcophagus that thereafter may have served as a settee or bed for the survivors. In one case, at Los Muertos, a man was found buried, side by side.

The seven or more communal houses within the Salt River Valley were of type similar to the pueblo buildings known as the Zuni and Hopi villages of Northern Arizona, undoubtedly with racial connection with the apparently more advanced Indians of the Southwest. There were, for example, stone walls, built of mud and stone or adobe. Mr. Cushing expressed belief that the builders had been gone about 1000 years and that the valley settlements were not in a single period, though by similar peoples, who took water buried, side by side.

HARMONY FOR CHINA FADING

Positive Acceptance Still in Abeyance for Cabinet

Radical Party Believed to be Pressing Demands

Christian General's Exit Has Caused Confusion

[BY CARLES—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PEKING, Jan. 5.—Although the new Cabinet named by Tsuan Chi Ju, provisional President of China, under the Premiership of Hsu Shih Feng, has been in office five days, no positive acceptance has as yet been made. The decision is said to rest with C. T. Wang, whose appointment as Foreign Minister is looked on as a test of the support of the Center Progressive party.

The slowness is making a decision an uncertainty or internal harmony, even with the end in view of a radical government. It is believed in some circles that the Ku Min Tang, China's radical party, with headquarters at Canton, demands greater representation. The party has one representative, Li Pei Chi, Minister of Education, who declines to serve.

The situation is complicated by efforts to investigate the political activities of "little Hu," last Tuesday, now looked on as a political murderer, the instigator of which is unknown.

The departure of Feng Yu Hsiang, the Chinese General who announced he was giving up public life and going abroad, from Kalgan, has left the Chinese situation in worse confusion than ever before.

The war has left him where he was, in possession of Chihli Province and Peking, but he is not the leading figure in the war and is leaving before he is forced out.

His army leaders are disgruntled because Feng Yu Hsiang gave the Tungpan (civil) government of Angora to Sun Yat-sen instead of one of his victorious generals. Feng's failure to agree to support the new Cabinet is construed as the reason why the Chinese have threatened to step down next week, leaving China virtually without a dictatorship.

Community Tax Case Rehearing Will be Sought

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—Attorneys for the Robbins estate executors will reportedly argue before the United States Supreme Court in the California community property case involving income tax refunds of approximately $100,000, announced today that a petition for rehearing will be filed.

The court yesterday held that the husband must pay the full income tax on community property and that the interest of the wife was of mere expectancy.

TEXAS SPEAKER SUED FOR $75 BOARD BILL

CALLS CALIFORNIA WOMAN'S ACTION SPITE, BUT ADMITS OLD DEBT

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 5.—Speaker Satterwhite of the Texas House of Representatives, erstwhile advocate of a special session of the Legislature to investigate, among other things, handling of State money, now is facing a financial problem of personal concern.

He is before a court suit filed here for collection of a $75 bill board, nearly four years old.

An attorney for Miss Emma Ford, now of Tulare county, California, has filed a motion for a hearing judgment on a preexisting note which she charged Mr. Satterwhite executed June 1, 1922, to cover the bill. The transaction, according to the petition, took place at Panhandle, Tex., the legislator's home.

The suit was filed for spite. Mr. Satterwhite declared at Panhandle, when news of the action reached there: "The debt is an honest one and I have not repudiated it."

SENATE VOTES SALE OF ARMY BARRACKS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Sale of many obsolete military reservations in various sections of the country was approved today by the Senate. The authorizing bill now goes to the House. The properties include San Diego barracks, California, and Fort Winfield S. M., near Yuma, N. Mex., lying north of the right of the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad.

The year was a prosperous one for the home states, the report said, as the funds allowed by the government have been ample to meet our needs. Receipts from all sources, including the State and Federal appropriations, totaled $397,025, and expenditures $315,793.

THREE MEN DIE IN EXPLOSION ON BARGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MIAMI BEACH (Fla.) Jan. 5.—An explosion on the Gulf Refining Company's large Gulf Sprite here late today resulted in the death of three members of the crew and the injury of several others. The explosion followed a fire back, which occurred during an attempt to ignite the furnace fire with a blow torch used for that purpose. The three dead men were in the engine room at the time of the explosion and were burned to death.

SOVIET PAINTS CHESSMEN RED

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MOSCOW, Jan. 5.—The revolution has affected chess, the most cosmopolitan of all games and a pastime so ancient that its origin is lost in antiquity. The recent international tournament here has stimulated the game and "Bolshevik" chessmen are being manufactured in large quantities. The new sets are red and white, thus representing the forces of revolution and counter-revolutions. In the white set the conventional and time-honored figures of king, queen, knight, bishop and castle are retained, but in the opposing set the king is replaced by a worker, the queen by a peasant woman, the knight by Red army soldiers, the bishop by Bolshevik commissars, the castles by factory workers and the pawns by "young pioneers" who are the Boy Scouts of the land of soviets.

MOSUL AMITY FURTHERED

Visit of Turkish Envoy in London to Baldwin Adds to Hope of Peace Over League Award

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The negotiations between Great Britain and Turkey over the Mosul boundary took a further step today when the Turkish Ambassador in London called on Prime Minister Baldwin in Downing street to report on the reaction in Ankara to Mr. Baldwin's olive branch held out immediately after the House of Commons' acceptance of the League of Nations' decision.

Secretary was preserved over to-day's meeting, but it is understood the Turkish reply is perfectly satisfactory to Great Britain and the British Ambassador in Ankara is to return to London to report on the reaction in Ankara to Mr. Baldwin's olive branch held out immediately after the House of Commons' acceptance of the League of Nations' decision.

The slowness is making a decision an uncertainty or internal harmony, even with the end in view of a radical government.

BRITISH PENSION LAW EXTENDED*Videns and Orphans Benefit Under New MeasureFirst Payments Due With Operation of SchemeMore Originally Promised by Labor Government(UPI AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

WINDSOR, Jan. 5.—One of the outstanding social reforms brought about by the Baldwin government, the extension of old-age pensions to include also pensions for widows and orphans, came into operation yesterday when the first pensions payable under the scheme were paid. The reform was promised by the government of Ramsay MacDonald, but was delayed by financial difficulties. It is part of a program from now on against unemployment, sickness and death, which applies to all workers of whom less than £250 a year—approximately 4 million workers. It includes an increase of 10 per cent of the population of the United Kingdom.

The scheme workers are entitled to weekly contributions of 18 cents for men and 4 cents for women (9 cents) for each child. It divides about equally between employer and employee. It is added to a similar sum already payable under a existing health insur-

GAS FIRM PLANS NEW BOND ISSUE

Local Company Seeks Approval of Stockholders

New Financing Would Provide for More Expansion

Liens to be Issued and Sold When Funds Are Needed

For the purpose of passing upon the proposed increase in the bonded indebtedness of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000, a special meeting of the stockholders will be held today at the corporation's offices in this city, according to a statement made yesterday by W. E. Houghton, treasurer.

The reason for the new bond issue and what it is intended to provide for is explained in the following statement of Mr. Houghton:

"The company's expansion with the public utilities of the country in general, and of Southern California in particular, has had to expand tremendously during the past few years to supply the increased demands for its gas and electric service, due largely to the growth in population."

GROWTH TRACED

"This great expansion may be briefly summarized in the statement that during the five-year period ending with 1925, the total number of gas and electric meters connected to the corporation's system has more than doubled, with a corresponding or even greater increase in plant equipment generally. The financing of these plant additions has required the sale of the corporation's preferred stock to the amount of over $19,000,000, and an increase of over $8,000,000, in bonds outstanding.

"The total amount of bonds outstanding at the present time is a little more than $46,000,000 in comparison with the amount of $17,000,000 permissible under the existing general and refunding mortgage. However, on account of certain limitations in such mortgages, it has been decided to issue no further bonds thereunder, but instead to ask the stockholders to authorize a new issue of bonds up to a total of $150,000,000, including those already issued, such new bonds to be issued under a new mortgage, the scope of which will be designed so as to accommodate all the requirements of the future."

"It is intended to sell the new bonds at such times and in such amounts as may be necessary to pay in part for plant additions which the corporation may be required to make, to keep pace with the future growth of government, and to maintain its position in the forefront of progressive institutions.

"The new bonds, like those issued under the existing mortgage, will be issued and sold from time to time only after authorization by the Railroad Commission of California, and the investment of the proceeds will also be under the supervision of the bondholders, together with the restrictive provisions of the mortgage enforceable by the trustees thereunder, insuring the investment of the bond proceeds in plant additions."

Wheat Futures Off Sharply on Heavy Selling

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Local wheat bulls found it easier to buy wheat and advance values on Monday than it was to secure profits today. Heavy selling, which developed at the start on the unexpected weakness in foreign markets, found a temporary check in the afternoon, but the market closed lower than the previous day to a low of 1,781¢, while the close was at 1,787¢. July finished at 1,848@1,848¢, May losses for the day were 2¢@4¢, with May leading the way. The market was 1,848¢@1,848¢, while Australia and Argentina seemed a decided 1¢@2¢. In Liverpool, while Buenos Aires was 1,848¢@1,848¢, and the close was at 1,848¢@1,848¢.

While corn showed fair resistance to pressure, May went down to 28¢@28¢, a decline of 1¢@2¢ from Monday's finish, while the day was net losses of 1¢@2¢, with May ending at 28¢@28¢. June lost 1¢@2¢, with May 28¢@28¢. May declined 1¢@2¢@1,15¢ and July 1¢@2¢.

While the crew was pulling the drill stem with the expectation of going back into the hole and sand the Associated Oil Company's field No. 21 well in the Ventura Avenue field at Ventura blew itself in yesterday and began flowing barefaced at an estimated rate of 400 barrels a day.

Heavy gas pressure blew the drill stem out of the hole and the oil came in through the eight-inch casting. The crew had to wait until the tanks and it has since been flowing under control with a pressure of approximately 500 pounds on the surface. It is estimated that the gas flow is between 2,000,000 and 4,000,000 cubic feet a day.

According to field reports the crew expects to bring the flow down under present conditions until the gas pressure tapers off so that the hole can be finished. There are now between 1200 and 1500 feet open hole. The well is the farthest east produced in the field. Its depth is about 5700 feet. Being located highest up on the slope of the hill, its height seems greater than that of other wells in that its production comes from the same zone as that of other deep wells in the field, which are located down on the flat.

The Marland Oil Company's Fred Bixby made its flow after the Marland had put in several cement jobs to bring the bottom water. The fact that the flow came through a six-inch casting, showing good pressure, indicates that the water can be excluded. The well was killed yesterday to resume further exploration for the source of the blowout.

Individually the Fred Bixby No. 1 fewed more oil during its brief test than any well in this area has ever produced.

Pugh & Miller are starting work on two more wells in this field.

Gets Good Well

Pugh & Miller's new well in the northwestern corner of the Signal Hill field, both by the Standard Oil Company. Their aggregate production is about 450 barrels a day.

Individually the Fred Bixby No. 1 fewed more oil during its brief test than any well in this area has ever produced.

Gets Three Wells

The Standard Oil Company yesterday reported the completion of three new wells in the Inglewood field, with a total output of about 1175 barrels a day. Two of the wells came in this pump.

Los Angeles Investment No. 1-34 drilled to 2191 feet came in pumping about seventy-five barrels a day. This well is about 250 feet shallower than most wells in this area.

Los Angeles Investment No. 1-35 came in on the same day with a production of 50 barrels a day. Los Angeles Investment No. 1-36 was the only flowing well of the trio, coming in at the rate of 550 barrels a day from a depth of 2365 feet.

Bulk petroleum exports from Los Angeles Harbor during 1925 were greater than the shipments of the previous year, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

Its figures show that 194,540,762 barrels of petroleum products were shipped from the port last year. During 1924 the shipments amounted to 101,866,466 barrels. According to these figures last year of exports were 2,874,501 barrels greater than those of the previous year.

An interesting feature of the bureau's report is that crude oil shipments for the year totaled 31,141,436 barrels. Gasoline totaled 15,453,914 barrels for the year. Kerosene totaled 2,934,488 barrels and Diesel shipments totaled 1,292,885 barrels.

Gasoline exports afford an interesting comparison. Export of that commodity to the Pacific domestic trade totaled 3,795,184 barrels. Atlantic Coast domestic trade took 7,835,661 barrels. Atlantic foreign trade took 3,602,363 barrels, while Pacific foreign trade took only 220,786 barrels.

The Midway Oil Company cast its net casting at 2666 feet to the west of the Marland Company's oil well No. 22, a well 1000 feet to the northwest of the Obispo gusher.

The Marland Oil Company, owned by the Standard Oil Company, has received an application to operate the Citizens National Bank of Monrovia, Cal., with a capital of $100,000. The correspondent is Col. R. E. Frith, 130 North Myrtle Avenue, Monrovia.

Drop in Call Rate Fails as Stimulus to
Price Rise

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH!

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Working for a reaction was a popular pastime on the stock exchange and, with heavy profit-taking under way, swelled by professional selling, the market at a whole assumed a decided dragged appearance. The drop in call-money rates had been the stimulus to much the same way that 6 per cent for speculative funds had failed to impede the advance in security values during the closing hours of 1925. The market had one of those dwelled on the belief that selling for tax purposes was under way. Petroleum shares were under pressure, notwithstanding a great deal of a large consolidation in the making. Railroad securities were highly irregular and the same characterization applied fitted in other stocks on the list. The market property may be diagnosed in a single sentence, for again it tested the strength of holding every stock for itself and without regard for other stocks. The nation-wide publicity, which had attained purchase of an interest in a hitherto closely held corporation—National Cash Register—found reflection in large overvaluations for some of them offered today and their entrance to stock-exchange trading brought another active industrial to market. The market was the tenor in many commission-house suggestions over morning wires, and the developments which followed gave proof of their wisdom.

Amazing Story of Stolen Gold and Shattered Hearts Revealed in Giant Bank Swindler

Roads Out of State Guarded to Capture Frank

$19,000 and the Hellman Bank are the three largest institutions involved. Five other banks were swindled by Frank, according to the reports. The Hellman Bank, from what could be learned yesterday, is the largest bank.

In addition, at night that Frank held controlling stock in one of the smaller banks footed by him. Records disclosed the fact that he had purchased the stock, paying cash over a period of nine months. Although the majority owner Frank did not hold an office in the bank.

INSURANCE ON LOSS

Banking officials announced late yesterday afternoon that all losses are covered by insurance and that the amount of the loss is $100,000. Mr. Thompson, who first discovered the shortages, stated that every bank involved appears to be sound and that it is only a matter of time before the losses will pay up. Every effort, however, is being made by the various banks involved to assist the authorities in unearthing Frank and his plottings.

The details of Frank's astonishing activities became known yesterday. It became evident that his operations had been extremely extensive and clever of any bank swindle uncovered in Southern California for years. They began in a small way, it was disclosed, almost two years ago and continued only after he had defrauded the banks out of almost $400,000.

Wise and women in several establishments said to have been surprised by Frank figure in the astonishing story. According to the police one of the women who knew as Virginia Nightingale, a former radio-pictorial actress, said others also appear. Frank's activities but their names were not disclosed by the authorities yesterday. Frank is married and lives at 1840 West Seventh street, having a child 2 years of age. Yesterday it was reported at his home that Mrs. Frank was prostrated.

Mrs. Frank lies seriously ill at the family residence, according to a statement made yesterday by a relative who is attending her. Her illness, the relative said, is the aftermath of her husband's asserted venture into the realms of high finance. Mrs. Frank, the relative said, is in no condition to be disturbed and has no statement to make.

SECRETARY PUZZLED

"I always believed he was a financial genius and a very wealthy man. I do not know what it is all about. It's too deep for me," stated Neil G. Brockett, an attractive blonde, who was known as the private secretary of Frank, when she was interviewed last night at her home, 5647 Santa Monica Boulevard.

Miss Brockett, a small, slight woman, on the verge of nervous breakdown, as a result of the strain of the past few days. She voluntarily told what she knows of the operation of Frank's finance company, and declared she is willing to assist the authorities and the police put it "took up the whole business." She came to Frank through this company that most of his operations were carried on, it is asserted.

METHOD GIVEN

Frank would present a check drawn on another bank to Landon, the authorities say, and receive the cashier's check or certificate of deposit in return and then deposit the money in one of the other banks. As the checks were passing through the clearinghouse, Frank would check against them and obtain cash. By watching the movement he was able to continue his operations on a large scale from June 1, 1925, until the exposure of yesterday.

From J. N. Pyle, head of the Pyle National Detective Agency, who is acting for one of the victims, John Kenneth Frank, the much-wanted man, has a checked past. At one time, according to Detective Pyle, he was a strong man in a lumber business. He was known as a gambler and was a frequent visitor at the rest of the freaks in a sideshow. Then he went on the stage and later blossomed out as a famous boxer, now known as Carl W. Gifford, who is the son of John K. Frank, manager of the Santa Barbara and Western branch of the Hellman Bank, Orison R. Ruddy, auditor of the J. K. Frank Finance Company, 4415 Sierra Vista street, Miss N. G. Brockett, private secretary to J. K. Frank and C. A. Gifford, book-keeper for the Frank interest, a check-kiting plot by which he bilked out of approximately $288,000, came to light today (Tuesday).

J. K. Frank, who was the head of the National Detective Agency, who is acting for one of the victims, John Kenneth Frank, the much-wanted man, has a checked past.

J. K. Frank, who lives at 1445 West Jefferson, with his wife and a豫-year-old child, was the head of the J. K. Frank Finance Company with headquarters at 4415 Sierra Vista street, and with offices at 141 Cherokee street, 625 West Jefferson, 422 West Slauson avenue, Huntington Park, and 1906 South Western avenue.

Frank also operated the Western Automobile Company, at 625 West Jefferson, a fictitious concern, and the Bureau of Business Standards, Inc., at 4415 Sierra Vista street, of which Carl W. Gifford was vice-president.

Frank's known operations totaled $60,000 of overdrafts June 1 of last year; by November 1, it had grown to $125,000; on December 1, 1925, to $225,000 (estimated) and on December 30 reached an estimated total of $387,000.

The only way that he was enabled to do this thing was through the confidence of his employer, Landon, who not only deceived his own employers, but reported to other banks in the city that checks written by Frank were good. The overdrafts at the various banks are

Landon's statement was not made public yesterday by the police or the bankers involved. He was booked in a district police station and was released several days ago and was released into the hands of the police.

No formal charge was placed against him and his whereabouts did not become known until the other story was released by the police and the bank authorities yesterday.

In explaining Frank's general operations, banking officials stated that he began almost two years ago, in a small way.

At the time only three banks were involved, and only a small sum of money obtained by Frank.

Frank operated the J. K. Frank Finance Company, with headquarters at 4415 Sierra Vista street, and also was listed as the head of the Western Automobile Company at 625 West Jefferson street.

The latter company, according to the latest reports, was run by Frank through this company that most of his operations were carried on, it is asserted.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

The official statement given out by the bank examiner and Mr. Reed of the Hellman Bank reads as follows:

NEW OFFSHORE SERVICE ADDED
Argentine Via Magellan Line Announced
Monthly Sailings from Local Port Planned
Five New Vessels Scheduled to Make Run

Establishment of a monthly fast freight service between Los Angeles Harbor and the Argentine via the Straits of Magellan with five ships and motor vessels. Larsen Co., was announced yesterday by Henry S. Scott, president of the General Steamship Corporation in a dispatch from San Francisco. The route has been to Norway for the past month arranging for the new service, one of the most important additions to Los Angeles' off-shore trade in many years.

The new vessels will give the General Steamship Corporation a total fleet of forty-one ships, operating to practically every port in the world. The route now includes the Roosevelt-Kawasaki around-the-world service of twelve ships, the eight vessels of the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique to North Europe; the five Norwegian motorships of the Wings Line, operating from the Pacific Coast to the west coast of South America; the five Swedish motorships of the Trans-Atlantic Line to North Europe, the Pacific Coast, the Orient and the Antipodes; the five new freight vessels of the Navigation Libre Triestina, operating from this coast to the Mediterranean.

The first ship in the new Argentine service will be the steamer Lekanger, heading from this port in March, followed by the steamer Evanger in April, steamer Hildanger, May; motorships Brattanger, June; and steamer Skjanger July. Mr. Scott also announced that two more motorships will be built immediately for the service.

Ports of call on the South American coast will include Rio de Janeiro, Montevideo and River Plate ports, while Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle are on the coast schedule.

NEW QUAKER LINE VESSEL CALLS AT PORT

The Quaker Line's international freight line has commenced two days ago, initiated in San Pedro. Many passengers with routes from the Northwest with a full cargo of coal and lumber.

The vessel recently was bought by the Oriental Navigation Company from Japan. She is the second vessel put by her owners into the Quaker Line's service since the sale of the Seven Transportation Company.

The new vessel, the Quaker Line, will be fortnightly, the vessel carrying full cargoes for the present, the general and grain cargo week.

Another ship is a new trade, the British steamer E. D. Kipling, of the Kipling Line, which recently came from Ceylon with a cargo of cotton with a cargo of newsprint paper for the Meteoric Steamship Company, which recently announced its entry into the paper trade.

The new vessel, the Kipling, will be fortnightly, the vessel carrying full cargoes for the present, and general cargo week.

After a absence of several months the freight steamer, owned by Harry Ford, is due Sunday from San Francisco with a full cargo for the Pacific Coast. Approximately half the cargo consists of lumber, the remainder being general and a series of trunks. Among the passengers are George E. Kipling, son of the late Eric Kipling, who died here last summer, his wife and son, Miss Helen Kipling, Mrs. and Mr. F. W. Walker of Holbrook, and W. T. Wood, New York attorney.

These ships are now carrying with much difficulty, as the shipping lines have all assigned to regular runs touching this port. The hat has been frequently enlarged. The Naval Mail passenger and freight carrier Almirante Amerio has reported for the Royal Line in Germany, is due on her first trip since coming into service. The second ship, the Almirante Amerio, and is the first of two new freighters added to the fleet of the Royal Line, to be delivered to the United American Lines. The Almirante Amerio, long distance freighter, is due this month, and will be the second ship in the interoceanic trade as an augmentation of the Monson-McCormick fleet.

Among the newest carriers, the new steamer L. A. D. Shipton, of the Pacific Seaboard Orient Line, from Australia with a cargo of coal and lumber, is due Sunday. Other passenger carriers are the new German passenger and freight carrier Wittekind, the Catalina, which have gone into the Almirante Amerio, and the Catalina, which will be the third ship to come into service.

A new $200,000 corporation, is recently formed as the Pacific Seaboard Orient Line, is reported to be the American Oriental Mail fleet physics by the incorporation, is expected as carrying the shipping line's name, though those new directions if not purchased in the near future, the new company will offer new bids for the purchase of the steamship after the 30th inst.

CITY BURGLARS GROWING BOLD*Intruder Shaves Himself as Others Ransack HouseDaylight Robbers Walk Off With Chinese RugHousewife's Show of Nerve Rescues Silverware*

The boldness of Los Angeles burglars was indicated in reports to the police yesterday, in which one was said to have leisurely shaved himself in a kitchen while his companions ransacked the residence, and in another where two men are said to have calmly walked into an open-front house and, without any show of fear, taken a large Chinese rug out of the front lobby.

It was in the home of J. A. Aros at 120 South Lorena street that the razor was said to have been used. Mr. Aros, returning late in the evening, found that his residence had been ransacked and $400 worth of clothing and jewelry taken, according to the police report.

RAZOR MAY PROVE CLEW

On the kitchen sink police officers later found Mr. Aros' razor and it was believed to have been used. Mr. Aros, returning late in the evening, found that his residence had been ransacked and $400 worth of clothing and jewelry taken, according to the police report.

DISTURBS INTRUDER

Calm nerves on the part of Mrs. J. Scott prevented a burglar from getting away with all of her silverware, which she had left on her front door step on 214 North Marion Avenue, according to another police report. While she was sitting in a front room of her residence Mrs. Scott stated she heard sounds of breaking voices. When she went there to investigate she found the burglar bending over her silverware into a sack. Quietly she called the telephone to call the police. The burglar heard the click of the receiver, hurried about, and then leaped through a window, leaving his loot behind. Outside of the window on the side lawn Mrs. Scott later found other objects of value that the burglar had purloined.

Clothing valued at $500 was taken by burglars who broke into the Kline-Schaeffer干员's establishment at 1645 Hudson Avenue, according to the report of L. Brott, manager. Entrance was effected through a rear window.

FEW BERTHS OPEN ON SUBMARINE TENDER

A few berths still are available, it was announced yesterday, on the U.S.S. Holland, submarine tender now nearing completion at the Puget Sound Navy Yard. Men remaining on the Navy will be given preference, according to Lt. Commander Quigley, in charge of the Los Angeles recruiting station. Her complement is thirty-two officers, twenty-five petty officers and 34 enlisted men.

The Holland is to be 500 feet long, sixty-one-feet beam, 10,600 tons displacement; 18 knots speed; 1650 tons fuel-oil capacity. She will have a machine shop, pattern shop, copy room, supply shop, and foundry and blacksmith shop for making repairs to the submarines.

Though she is 104 years of age, Mrs. Francis Welfield of Muskogee, Okla., recently married for the fifth time.

A vote by the City Council yesterday did little to remove it from the morass of the notorious Hollywood can dump, which lies thirty feet deep at the spot where Talmadge street is to be constructed. The contract for the paving has been let, but the contractor cannot lay the street until the cans, accumulated during many years, are removed.

A report of the Finance Committee, levying an assessment upon the district amounting to $200,000 for the removal of the cans, was defeated, eight to six. The matter probably will be referred to the Public Works Committee.

Hear Asserted Fratricide on Lesser Charge

Facing manslaughter charges instead of the murder charge on which he first was arrested, H. Paul Mitchell yesterday was arraigned before Judge Hahn as a result of the shooting in which Mitchell's brother Marion was killed accidentally.

According to the story told at the preliminary hearing before Judge Hahn when the case was changed to the lesser charge, Mitchell had come back from a trip to find his brother friendly with a man he considered a bad character. In an attempt to scare the man away from the victim, Mitchell said he had shot in a shot which hit his brother instead of the other man. Mitchell is represented by Attorney Howell W. Richardson.

Standing idle, it is a very expensive luxury.

Vacancies sometimes are due to seemingly slight things—even items apparently so unimportant as imperfections in the plastering.

Not because these blemishes are so noticeable in themselves, but they give the entire property a suggestion of cheapness—and even people who live in rented quarters want to have a home they'll be proud to have their friends see.

Mr. Landlord didn't think of this when he asked the plastering contractor to scale down his bid. He has had plenty of time to think of it since, and when he builds again he intends to build some rental insurance into his walls.

Whether you are building to sell, or to rent, or for your own occupancy, this is a lesson you can profit from: Good plastering never is expensive; cheap plastering never is economical.

SUMMERFIELD BACK ON BENCHGrants His First Divorce of 1926

JUDGE SUMMERFIELD returned to the bench yesterday after a month's illness, and granted his first divorce of 1926 to Mrs. Mabel Ruth Stoddard.

Mrs. Stoddard said she had enough of Hale Herbert Stoddard, and suspected that, now that her son is gone, he has had enough of her. She further charged, she said, Stoddard was a student at Stanford and she worked for a San Francisco oil concern. He gave up his scholastic ambitions.

The purpose of the action, it was stated, was to give Johns time to submit comprehensive plans to secure adjustments or lowering of rates and outline the policy under which the city should proceed.

It is planned that Johns shall prepare his plans in conjunction with the city telephone committee, and will be paid for his services out of $1616 left from the $7000 set aside by the board to contest the Railroad Commission's order for metered business phones.

The agreement was signed December 10, last, when the matter was submitted to the commission for final decision.

LOSS AND DAMAGES REDUCED

Espey Claims Cut Down by $60,000,000 Through Care in Handling Shipments

Subscription to Boulevard Body is Sought of Executors

Careful handling of freight has aided in reducing the national loss and damage freight claims bill from more than $100,000,000 to approximately $40,000,000 last year, C. L. Herbst, chairman of Southern Pacific's Los Angeles division loss and damage freight committee, said to the association during his lifetime.

The purpose of the association, it was said, was to provide a better highway between Culver City, Santa Monica and Los Angeles, in furtherance of this plan, Inc was said to have subscribed $200 a month for a period of a year. According to the complaint, only $100 of the amount was paid at the time Inc's death in November, 1924.

Closer co-operation between shippers and railroads is responsible for the splendid showing made. Experiments are now being conducted by the Southern Pacific Company to provide better methods of bracing freight cars, as to prevent sudden shifting while in motion. It is anticipated that these experiments will reduce still further loss of and damage to shipments."

REEL MAKES ANSWER TO NAN DUNCAN

Producer Charges Actress Refused to Go Abroad Without Sweetheart

Declaring Nan Duncan, a film actress, refused to go abroad for motion-picture work unless her asserted sweetheart could accompany her and have his expenses paid. Frederick Reel, Jr., film producer, yesterday filed an answer to the suit for $50,000 damages brought against him by Miss Duncan for asserted breach of contract.

In her suit Miss Duncan stated Reel contracted to have her play opposite Cullen Landis in pictures at a salary of $100 a week for five years. She asserted the producer failed to live up to the terms of the contract and wrote her letters urging her to marry him.

Reel stated in his answer that he wrote the letters merely as a favor to Miss Duncan, who had asked at the time, he said, and he declared he was a married man and that the domestic status of each was known to the other.

The producer declared Landis suffered a serious injury in an accident which made it impracticable for the actor to take the parts planned for him and a substitute was engaged. The other party, Reel continued, protested against starring Miss Duncan.

The case is now ready to be set for trial.

AUTHORIZE FUND TO FINISH PASS PAVING

Arrangements have been made with the Board of Supervisors for the allocation of $150,000 for the completion of the paving of the new Cahuenga Pass road to a width of seventy-two feet, it was announced yesterday by Councilman W. H. Randall. The Council then authorized the Board of Public Works to make use of the money for that purpose. The money, said Randall, will come from the bridge fund allocation and will be disbursed by inspection at which time it will be needed for the bridges. The forty-foot roadway will be opened to traffic about the 15th inst.

Council Looked to for Authority to Hold Rate Specialist

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday voted to request the City Council for authority to extend the services of A. N. Johns, rate expert employed by the city to fight the installation of measured telephone business service.

The purpose of the action, it was stated, was to give Johns time to submit comprehensive plans to secure adjustments or lowering of rates and outline the policy under which the city should proceed.

It is planned that Johns shall prepare his plans in conjunction with the city telephone committee, and will be paid for his services out of $1616 left from the $7000 set aside by the board to contest the Railroad Commission's order for metered business phones.

The agreement was signed December 10, last, when the matter was submitted to the commission for final decision.

TIMES WANT ADSHere is GOLF ~ at its Best

LONG BEACH has much to offer the golf enthusiast. It boasts of two splendid Country Clubs and a fine new Municipal all-grass course, located in the center of beautiful Recreation Park.

It is doubtful if any city in the United States has given to its citizens a Municipal Golf Links superior to the course recently opened by the City of Long Beach.

So excellently did dame nature do her preliminary work on these beautiful grounds that skillful golf architects easily developed them into a Municipal course without counterpart in all of California.

The entire grounds are well-set to grass and the first nine holes are being enjoyed by the people of Long Beach today. Nine more holes, which will complete the 18-hole course, will be open soon.

The topography of the land is indeed a rare treat for the golfer. There are a great many natural hazards, and the course is attractive alike to the professional and the novice, sporty enough for the expert, and still not too difficult for the less experienced player.

Truly, one will find golf at its best here. And with the opening of the new Municipal Golf Links, Long Beach has added another lure for those who are seeking an ideal place to live.

138,000 citizens urge you to come to Long Beach and enjoy with them its many forms of healthful recreation.

With but one exception, every golf star participating in the Los Angeles Golf Tournament that opens tomorrow, entered and played in the Long Beach Tournament at the Virginia Country Club last week.

Upon visiting the three Long Beach Golf Courses, each star expressed great enthusiasm over the splendid facilities afforded the golfers here.

Another new departure recommended by the committee is that of individual branding of the walnuts instead of the sacks as has been the custom heretofore. Such a procedure would end out would eliminate any possibility of mixing inferior walnuts with those of higher quality. During

VALLEY GIRL PINES FOR CITY

Mother's Illusions Blasted When Daughter Flees Solitude for Life Below Border

EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 5.—Harriett Thompson, 20 years of age, and described by her mother as "a sturdy athletic type of a girl who prefers the silent solitude of Death Valley to city life" was on her way back to the Panamint Hills today with Mrs. Mary A. Thompson, a widow.

Harriett had been driven from the Panamint Hills by the depressing loneliness, she said, but promised to go back with her mother when the wealthy mine owner said he wanted her to attend her daughter's school's graduation.

GOING TO SING AND DANCE

She had listened to Fair's tales of the life below the border, Harriett said, and "borrowed" her mother's roadster to see the country. Richard, her little brother, too had ridden in Death Valley and was taken along so he could ride the horses and have a good time in Mexico.

Harriett was en route to a roadside inn below the border, she said, where she was going to sing and dance. Felix had told her that she could make a lot of money and have a good time, she said. Harriett protested when Felix was arrested, saying she would be all right if he would let her remain in jail.

Mrs. Thompson said she has been in Death Valley for six years, operating her mine, which has been very successful, making $10,000 a month. She has been approached by Felix, who said he could make a lot of money and have a good time, she said. Harriett protested when Felix was arrested, saying she would be all right if he would let her remain in jail.

Harriett told a strange story of a longing for the music and dancing that other girls know. Black-headed and pretty, she probably will be freed tomorrow.

Yesterday morning the young man was taken violently ill and died a few hours later from gastric hemorrhage resulting from ulcers of the stomach.

Harriett told a strange story of a longing for the music and dancing that other girls know. Black-headed and pretty, she probably will be freed tomorrow.

Funeral services are to be held tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at Draper's chapel with Dr. Charles F. Seitter, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating. Burial will be in the city cemetery against the steel pipe.

Have Been Crushed(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
FRESNO, Jan. 5.—Suddenly terminating the calling of all defense witnesses shortly after the opening session of the United States District Court, was convened today, attorneys for the Federal government launched into their arguments in the trial of twelve former members of the Fresno police department charged with conspiracy to violate the Volstead Act by accepting money in return for giving police protection to Italian bootleggers.

With the close of the rebuking attorneys for each of the two sides, moves for dismissals and each motion in turn was overruled by Judge Henning.

ARGUMENTS BEGAN

Argument for the defense was begun by U. S. D. A. Miller of Nellie, who was followed by U. S. Atty. Lucas. Each of nine members of the defense and the chief argument of the government will be made by U. S. Atty. McNabb. It is believed the case will go to the jury on Jan. 10.

Neville concerned himself especially with touching the lights of the case. Lucas was fully pointed to the so-called狡猾 (shrewd) of former Chief, Frank Wickstrom, Showe Trusdell, declaring that they controlled the department; declare that the other men thought "big fellow" were getting the big "get mine."

DERIDED POLICE

Point by point, Neville stated the defense showing of police practices and methods used against bootleggers. He declared that the police as desired they have been our jacksack and could have arrested the leaders for vagrancy, just the same as did in tramping down the dirt at 1435 Fresno street.

The defense, in turn, was his argument during a continuation of the day's session, and immediately after he closed the defense argument was begun by U. S. Atty. McNabb, who was followed by William E. Simpson and D. M. Benson, who was arguing the case adjourned for the day.
